

3. Extreme Families

Bald Eagle (Haliaeetus leucocephalus)

Attribute - Bald Eagle is not really bald

3.6 The Pseudo Raptor

Geographical Distribution – North America, Canada, Alaska, North Mexico

Bald Eagles are mainly brown with a white head and tail. Its scientific name, Haliaeetus leucocephalus, means sea (hali), eagle (aetos), white (leukos), and head (cephalos) as in the feathers on the eagle's head. The word "bald" comes from the old English "bakle," meaning white. The Bald Eagle is a seabird with a white head. It lives near big areas of water, where there are trees to nest in and there is a lot of food to eat. Babies, called eaglets, are born light gray then turn brown. When they are four to five years old, they develop their normal white heads and tails. In the wild.

"AND GOD REMEMBERED NOAH AND EVERY LIVING THING"
Genesis 8 verse 1

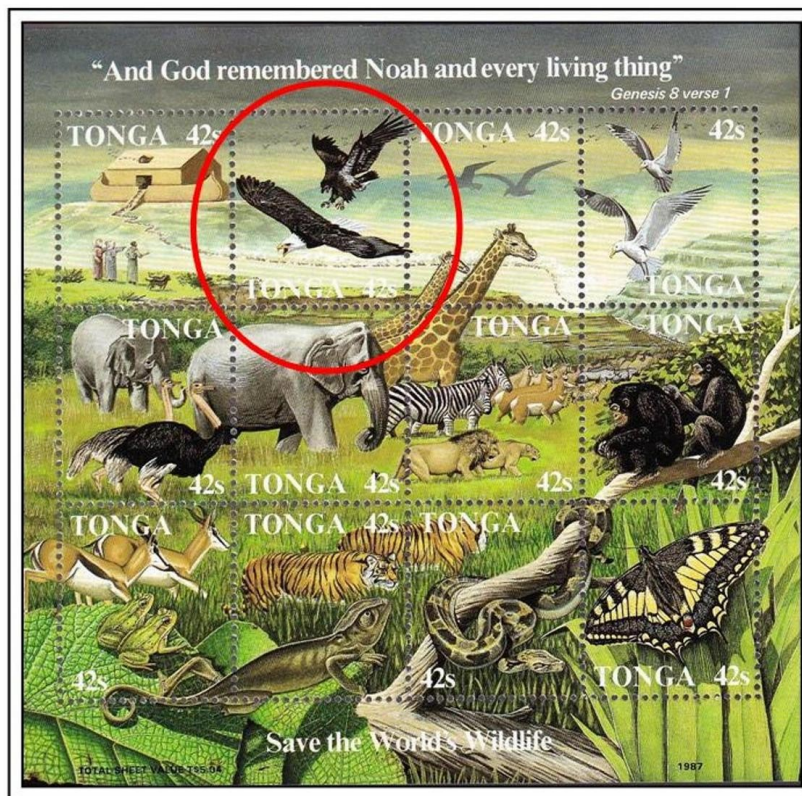

1967 - Monochrome Proof, mounted on white board

MONOCHROME PROOFS were done on thin card and in black and white and were used to check the design.

A scarce item from the Tonga printers archival material.

A specimen, overprinted in black. Few overprints were also done in gold, as displayed in next page.

1967 - Wildlife conservation, MS with biblical reference "And God remembered Noah every living thing".
Genesis 8 Verse 1