

INDO AUSTRALIAN REGION

The Indo-Australian region encompasses two zoogeographical areas known as the Oriental and Australian regions. It stretches from Pakistan and India to Australia and New-Zealand. There are profound differences in the faunas of the two regions, but many butterfly species extended from the Oriental to the Australian region.

